

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS, MANAGERS AND SUPERVISORS

Duration:

Two hours

Who should attend:

All directors, managers and supervisors.

Objectives:

To provide participants with:

- A thorough understanding of the legislative responsibilities of Directors, Managers and Supervisors for Occupational Health and Safety;
- A clear understanding of the need to implement company OHS policies and procedures to meet these responsibilities.

Content

- ✓ The requirements of OHS Act 2000 and OHS Regulation 2001
- ✓ Responsibilities of directors and “persons concerned in the management of the corporation”
- ✓ “Due diligence” and the OHS management system
- ✓ Costs of injury and accidents including the “total cost of risk”, workers compensation costs, and fines

Chris Jones Risk Management

Chris Jones is the Director and owner of CHRIS JONES RISK MANAGEMENT Pty Limited. He established the company in January 1996 after fifteen years as a risk management consultant for two global insurance brokers.

Chris Jones Risk Management specialises in:

- Occupational Health and Safety
- Liability Risk Management
- Training

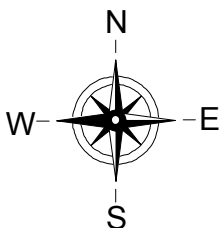

He is a PQC Auditor for building work in Queensland (Number: 350859). He is an accredited trainer (# 320) for Consultation Training and the Construction Industry General Induction Course in New South Wales.

Our clients have included some of Australia's most successful organisations, and we have undertaken such projects as:

- Occupational health and safety programme surveys and implementation
- Public and professional liability review, control and training programmes
- Design and implementation of risk management and OH&S training

Chris has a Degree in Psychology, a certificate IV in Workplace Safety, a certificate IV in Assessment and Workplace Training. He is a qualified auditor of Occupational Health and Safety systems, and is certified as an OHS management systems auditor by RABQSA.

He is a chartered professional member of the Safety Institute of Australia and a member of the Australian Institute of Management.

Telephone: 0411 228 051
Facsimile: 02 9484 1651
E-mail: chris@chrisjones.com.au
Website: www.c